Q: Interfusion asked clarifications about eventual staff changes.

A: Mr. Falanga explained that the staff employed for the project must be hired with a specific job contract and that staff cannot be subcontracted.

Q: Both BGRF and INTERFUSION asked clarifications about the PER DIEM: how to calculate it, what does it cover and how to get the reimbursement.

A: Mr. Falanga explained that per diem covers meals, accommodation and local transports costs and that the reimbursement has to be in line with the partners internal usual practices on travel costs (flat rate or real costs reimbursement). Mr. Falanga asked the partners to send a copy of the partners internal rule attesting their usual practice on travel costs.

Q: Ms. Tisheva asked some clarifications on BGRF budget and if it is possible to move costs from one budget heading to another one.

1. Welcome address and introduction

Mrs. Carolina Esposito (FANELLI – Scientific Coordinator of SPRING) opened the second meeting day. Mrs. Esposito briefly presented the aims of this second day and the external experts invited to participate in the project meeting.

Topics of the speech: treatment and care facilities and rehabilitation of persons with interim measures has its complexity as the therapeutic alliance and the same therapeutic contract are conditioned by judgmental factors which are: living in the community, the difficulty of the person

in the alternative measures & treatment
programs and to organize a
European prevention campaign for youth - SPRING

to be defined within a relationship in an independent way. Alliance strategies and contract ones must provide and adapt to this situation and to the programmes and the setting of intervention must be individualized and must provide the cooperation between the social, health and justice networks

2. Presentation of the experience and methodologies of intervention of the Comunità M. Fanelli with people in an alternative prison regime.

8

Mrs. Carolina Esposito (FANELLI – Scientific Coordinator of SPRING) presented to the participants the experience and the methodologies of intervention of the Comunità Fanelli, in particular the presentation was focused on the data about people in an alternative prison regime.

3. Good practices for the prevention of recidivism for crimes committed by addicts in urban contexts.

Mr. Gennaro Pastore (Responsible of the Regional Service for drug addicted) presented to the participants some good practices for the prevention of recidivism for crimes committed by addicts in urban contexts.

Mr. Pastore gave an overview of the phenomenon of drug prison and with reference to drug-related crimes and to alternative measures under the current legislation for drug offenders.

Mr. Pastore, gave an overview of the general condition of life in prison with particular reference to the Italian prison of Poggioreale (Naples), detention facility included in an urban-metropolitan as Naples. The speaker analysed the Italian context, emphasized the social concept of detention, an idea that has transformed the prison into a place of imprisonment for persons who fail to integrate into the social context. It also stressed the importance of placing emphasis on rehabilitation and treatment outside the prison system also paying attention to the economic dimension of the daily management of drug addicted in prison.

Mr. Pastore, as an expert of Spring Project, submitted a questionnaire for a data collection and info regarding the characteristics of the service and related data corresponding to the target users of the Spring project.

4. The social distress of the person and the levels of social integration

Mr. Francesco della Pietra presented one of the issues related to distress is the social integration. This problem is frequently detected since adolescence through expressions of addiction including eating disorders and addictions affective substance dependencies. The consumption of substance besides other addictions bring up the complication of the difficulty of social integration.

In both national and international literature the problem of dependencies, along with depression, is considered one of the emergencies that the health sector should take care of. Currently in Italy

Prevention of and fight against crime:
a new initiative to identify best practices
in the alternative measures & treatment
programs and to organize a
European prevention campaign for youth - SPRING

one of the problems is the fragmentation of assistance (DSM, SERT etc..) that makes the management of people with substance dependencies highly problematic.

5. Good procedures for the prevention of recidivism for crimes committed by addicts in urban contexts

Father Armando Zappolini focused his speech on the integration of interventions carried out by the various actors involved in the drug question. Still more significant is the context of acceptance and more and more relevance is given to local communities. Drug addiction is a problem at socio-health level and must be addressed through interventions of therapeutic and rehabilitative rather than punitive and repressive. Drug addiction is a purely social problem for this active involvement of civil society is central to the success of treatment interventions and social reintegration of drug addicts.

Mr. Stallone, starting from the current situation of poor integration between legal obligations and the needs of social and rehabilitation of drug dependent offenders, questioned the audience asking provocatively, about the real effectiveness of alternatives to imprisonment. Another critical element, highlighted by Mr. Stallone was about the communication between organizations involved in the diagnosis and treatment programs for drug addiction in the fill-in of health documents to the court for granting the benefit. This element was addressed by Mr. Stallone starting after the speech of Mrs. Genghi about the difficulties of the Ser.T to communicate with the Surveillance Court for effective and efficient taking care of people seeking to serve their sentences in contexts other than prison and start, in many cases also continue, a therapeutic programme of recovery. The speaker in accordance with the service manager, Mr Di Matteo, presented some data concerning persons taken in charge by their service, the Ser.T of Torre Annunziata, for the past year. Working Package 4 Analysis of the local contexts - Guidelines

Working Group: definition of the research methodology, criteria and indicators

SPRING project aims to fight recidivism of drug related crimes committed by young people in urban contexts, through the identification of best practices in alternative measures and treatment programs to detention for drug addicted offenders and prevention campaigns.

WP 4 will aim to perform the country analysis and to report the general knowledge framework about the issues tackled by the project in each participating country (at national and local level): prevention of and fight against recidivism of drug related crimes.

The country analysis for each participating country will be based on a literature review of scientific publications, official documents, laws, agreements and guidelines with reference to drug phenomenon and drug addiction and to alternative treatment programs to detention for drug addicted offenders (paying particular attention to experiences with music therapy)

This research will concern the following points:

- Demographic and socio-cultural analysis and description of drug phenomenon with particular reference to anti-social behaviour;
- Legal and regulatory framework on drug and drug addiction;
- National data about drug related crimes and drug addicted offenders;
- Legislation in force, national and local agreements on the topics of:
 - health interventions in the field of addiction
 - social and health practices in the field of addiction
- National data about health and social practices in the field of addiction;
- Alternative measures to detention for drug addicted offenders;
- National data about alternative measures and treatment programs to detention for drug addicted offenders.

In order to highlight most clearly the general framework of each participating country, a SWOT analysis (Strength, Weaknesses, Opportunities, Threats) will be performed to provide a summary of the strength and weaknesses to be considered in the future phases of the project.

Search strategy

Study of the literature (scientific journals, grey literature, national reports, etc.), and of legislation related to each participating Member State to identify the topics of SPRING (prevention and fight against drug related crimes) and allow the understanding of the general framework of the project. Publications from year 2002 have to be taken into consideration.

For the analysis of the local context, with all the information collected by the study of literature etc., please add a short report (1 or 2 pages) of each point of the analysis.

For the filling of the SWOT matrix, please, describe each point referring to alternative measures to detention for drug addicted offenders.

In order to obtain homogeneous references and to understand what data is referred to what reference, please, at the end of the document, add a reference list, with the sources you selected as most representative, (see page).

For the reference list please follow this order:

- for journals (as minimum): author(s),journal year of publication, pages
- for books: Author(S,)title, publishing, publication place, year of publication.
- for Institutional reports or documents: Institution, title, publishing, journal (if applicable,) year of publication, and/or url (if applicable).
